STREET THEATRE PERFORMANCE – An Awareness on Waste Disposal

In our daily lives we perform many tasks which generates so much waste products. It can be anything like a chocolate wrapper or opening a frozen package of peas or replacing some dead batteries of your wall clock. To save environment we need to understand that the more waste we create daily, the more waste we must somehow get rid of. That is waste disposal which helps us to keep the environment clean and that's why it is important to always dispose the waste properly. In this view NSS volunteers performed street theatre and created awareness on waste disposal in college campus for the students and housekeeping. Students were enlightened on the ways of disposing the waste properly and housekeeping were enriched with hygienic ways of waste management.
