A CULINARY JOURNEY THROUGH FRANCE:

STUDENTS SHOWCASE FRENCH CUISINE

In celebration of international nutrition week.

On 11th September 2023 our campus came alive with tantalizing aromas and flavours of French cuisine as the students of Dept. of Psychology along with French Language department showcased their culinary talents under the guidance of our beloved French professor S.Sushmitha Department of French.

The Event took place in the Open Air Theatre which was transformed into a French café where students dressed with Red, Blue and White. To add to the ambience soft French music was being played in the background.

The Dean, The principal, Faculties were invited to taste the dishes and share their experience.

The students were divided into teams and each team was tasked with preparing French classic dishes. The menu featured an array of dishes starting from the famous King's Festival cake, coq au vin, Ratatouille, Au Gratin to name a few.

The students demonstrated remarkable dedication and creativity in their culinary endeavours. They meticulously followed the French cooking techniques and strived for authenticity in taste and presentation.

Many researched on the history behind their chosen dish adding an educational element to the event.

The event was not just about food it was also a cultural immersion into France.

The French Culinary event was an overwhelming success leaving behind a newfound appreciation. It showcased the ability of the students interest in trying new things and working as a team. The event not only highlighted the taste buds but also enriched our understanding of rich heritage of the country. It was a true testament to the talent and creativity of the students
